

Hello Shorewood Owners,

During a lull in the storm today, ASM personnel conducting a brief inspection of the exterior of the property. Upon inspection, the exterior of the buildings appear to be in good shape with no visible damage at this time.

Additional rain bands are moving in with tropical storm warning and tornado watches still in effect for this area. Also, at this time the evacuation order is still in effect and entry to Hilton Head Island is still prohibited. We will update again as additional information is made available.

Sincerely,

Kerri Cogen

Assistant Property Manager

kcogen@atlanticstatesmanagement.com

www.atlanticstatesmanagement.com